

On the Daring Pedestrian Who Challenges Motorists

*By Elijah Muhammad
Messenger of Allah*

When the pedestrian becomes so careless (silly) to desire to bully the operator of a vehicle (which is mechanically built and the operator has no guarantee of its perfection), he is risking his life against a mechanical instrument that has never been declared perfect.

TO STEP right out in front of a moving vehicle—just because you have the right of way—nine times out of ten you show to the world how ignorant and how careless you are with your spark of life. When that spark of life goes out, it can never be lighted again.

And, if your relatives would reap the harvest of a million dollars from life insurance companies, you would know nothing about it and you would not enjoy one penny of it. If they do not get anything for your death or for your injuries, you were to blame.
