

Black Woman Sets Clothes Pattern

By SISTER WILMA

The American so-called Negro woman is of the original Asiatic black nation. She is Mother of Civilization. This is a most important fact to know.

It should mean that she sets the pattern by which the whole world goes, in husband caring, child rearing and fashion designing.

Her natural beauty has been taken, degenerated, and turned against her. Western or white civilization freely admits in most history books that silk and perfume were acquired in the East during the Crusades.

White civilization knew only animal skins the crudest of fabrics and artifacts before ventures into the East as told by their own historians, at a time when the so-called Negro was in the East among his own people.

Inspired By Original People

Today we see that fashion design as we know it is mostly inspired by some dress or jewelry design to be found among the natives (or originals) of past history or other lands.

The past fashion rages for bold flower prints, sari silks, huge gold hoop earrings, gold and silver arm bracelets, face veils, curly hair and even suntans can all be traced to your natural beauty.

Is it not the desire of the white all be traced to your natural beauty.

Is it not the desire of the white woman to imitate your beautiful warm skin, full eyebrows, dark beautiful eyes, ample nose and full mouth that makes the cosmetic industry a multi-million dollar business? or the desire to walk in the same queenly way that our ancestors did as they carried vases and baskets on their heads that sends the white woman running to a modeling school?

Or a course in voice school will guarantee a beautiful low musical voice, a natural endowment of the original black woman.

Impersonate Black Woman

A white woman goes to finishing school to impersonate a black woman born with the seeds of this natural beauty. We could go on in comparison but what we would like to consider is how current fashion is affecting the so-called Negro woman.

She is attempting to imitate those who imitate her. She is very much swept by current fashion no matter how extreme and distorted, "the Paris look," "the Jackie look," "the bouffant look" designed by degenerate men with little interest in women as mothers, wives or daughters.

She permits these people to steal from her natural beauty and resell it to her through white women.

The Mother of Civilization MUST set the pattern for the rest of the world.

Develop your own natural beauty and grace and that of your sisters and daughters. Learn what natural talents you have within you to create and make beautiful and decent fashion.

In short reclaim your own, accept the teachings of the Most Honorable Elijah Muhammad and be recognized as that inspiration, the Mother of Civilization.
