

HUDDLING IN DISCUSSION of important point made during "The Messenger's" speech at Chicago's Coliseum, Raymond Sharrieff (l.) and Malcolm X talk about some of the things American Negroes must do to help advance their own.

MALCOLM X, the brilliant Muslim who has addressed learned seminars at Boston and debated radio commentator Barry Gray in New York, points out Mecca on huge map drawn especially for convention by Edwin Moss (r.) of Philadelphia. Below is portion of crowd shopping for unique items sold at mammoth bazaar at Chicago Coliseum during Muslims' 30th annual meeting.
