

Women in Islam

By TYNNETTA DEANAR

As time passes by, the people of the world are steadily and rapidly evolving into new patterns of associations which are the results of man's potential and desire to improve his status and the status of others. For too long, the world's peoples have been the unfortunate victims of a rulership which has been called among other names, Imperialism and Colonialism, backed, organized and exercised by the white race.

When the grievances and afflictions of the world's people are laid open for all to examine, we find that the cause is being excused by those who wish to associate forever with the original trouble maker of the Planet Earth, the white race.

All people of the earth who are moving towards independence are thinking in terms of improving self and kind. The progress of world events forces us to bear witness that it is time for such a course in the history of the black man to be manifested. The so-called Negroes must become aware of the fact that they, too, are a part of this changing history.

WHILE MANY of our people may seek to work with the white man towards goals that will never be permanently reached, the powerful voice of self-determination and independence will ultimately uproot the shallow voices and fruitless works of our people who want to integrate with the world's worst enemy of all time, the white race.

We, as women of an enslaved people and nation, should be ready and willing to discuss these problems in the open. What we want for ourselves should be what we want for our children and their children to come.

We should not be satisfied with meager peace offerings granted from a people who have built their own nation and laid the groundwork of their own government on land that they mercilessly and treacherously took from another people on the one hand and on the other hand unjustly organized the most fierce Slave Trade in history by sacrificing the lives of our people to perpetual slavery in over 400 years of mastery over the black man and woman. The white race long ago has proved that it never intended to be our friend.

THE BLACK people of America, who have taken to heart the teachings of loving everybody from their former slavemasters, have gone so far as to love that which God, Himself, hates and despises — evil and the evil-doers.

Many of our people say that there is much in the teachings of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad that is of merit, but when it comes to discussing the fact what the white man is the root cause of our present plight and the cause of the present world's corruption, their enthusiasm dies and is almost completely extinguished by the fear and love they harbor for the white man.

All praise is due to Allah that His will shall be done.
