

MARRIAGE

Marriage

By Sister Ivylyn X
Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Muslim Woman in North America holds a special place in the modern world of today. She carries the weight of responsibility on her shoulders of the upliftment of the whole of her kind. She, herself, must set an example of the glorious teachings of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad, that others may see and accept righteousness.

ISLAM, THE religion of the Black Man, is also the crown of the Black Woman. The Black Woman, the Queen of the Planet Earth, is most precious to her man, when she wears her crown with pride and dignity. The joy of the Black Man's heart is a righteous woman. So, let us turn away from ungodliness and be guided aright.

The Muslim Woman must first respect herself, so that others might respect her; and always carry herself in such manner that befits a righteous Muslim. In marriage, the Muslim Woman must maintain high standards of decency and cleanliness. In this way, she not only gains the respect of her husband, but she also gets respect from everyone she meets.

In her marriage, the modern Muslim Woman has a two-fold purpose. She not only acts as a wife to her husband, but her role is also to teach other sisters. Interwoven into the fabric of marital harmony is the ability to master the techniques of both. The Honorable Elijah Muhammad is the only leader with a program designed specifically to re-educate the Black Woman.