

The New Black Man can make a New Black Woman

By Thalia X.

THE TASK of making a new Black Woman is upon the shoulders of the New Black Man that the Honorable Elijah Muhammad is making with the Divine Guidance of Almighty God Allah.

Once the Black Woman is relieved of carrying the burdens and responsibilities of a man, and all odds that are against her in this struggle, what kind of a Woman will she be?

What are the outcomes of the Black Man being made into a New Man? If he is educated he is automatically moved to a higher and greater height in the nature in which he is created. Since the Black man is righteous by nature, education is the light that he receives to know himself also his functioning in this great Universe.

Just the opposite is the White Man. The more knowledge he gains the more he uses it to destroy everything that is going on the right course. Some of the White men with some of the highest I.Q's have master minded the syndicates.

If the New Black Man ruled the earth, he would become the sole provider for the Black Woman. She would not have to go to the white man. Her confidence and security and well being would lie solely upon the shoulders of the Black Man.

The Black woman in return, having been relieved of the struggle to survive or to go it alone in the many trials that life may bring her here in the Hells of North America, would be of a different character. Her mind would be free to develop in the woman's role in society.

If the Black Man protects and respects her she will have no fear of what tomorrow may bring. She can stand any storm in life and still be left standing when the storm is over.

It is the nature of a Black Woman to want to be ruled by her man. This makes her feel more like a woman.

Can you imagine a Black Woman who is free to be just herself? A woman free to cultivate herself in the refining of the arts and crafts that make her more womanly.
