Practical Nurse Selects Recipe for Banana Cookies

A good way to "sit out" inclement weather—or weather of any kind—declares Ethel Lee Johnson, a registered practical nurse, is to spend an afternoon making cookies. Ethel herewith offers her selection—a recipe for Banana Cookies that will please both old and young.

In her native Mississippi, Ethel says, all the women pride themselves on their ability to cook delicious and fascinating meals. Bad weather days always make the accomplished homemaker queen for the day, when she fills the house with the aromatic scent of foot treats baking in the oven.

BANANA COOKIES

- 2 Cups sifted flour
- 3 tps. baking powder
- ½ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. mace
- ½ Cup butter
- 2 eggs
- ¼ tsp. grated lemon peel
- 1 Cup mashed banana's (fully ripe)
- 2 medium banana's (fully ripe)
- ½ Cup red or green glazed cherries (halved)
- 1 Cup sugar
- Sift flour with baking powder, salt and mace.

Cream butter, then gradually beat in sugar, eggs and lemon peel. Stir in flour mixture, alternating with banana's; chill mixture. Drop by tablespoons onto ungreased cookie sheets. Top with glazed cherries and bake at 400 degrees from eight to 10 minutes. Remove cookies and cool on rack before serving. Makes about three (3) dozen cookies.
