

By Sister Teresa X (Jackson)

Messenger Muhammad has been carrying a burden of nearly dead weight for forty years. Allah taught our beloved Leader and Teacher that if he would give Islam to the so - called Negro in America as He (Allah) gave it to the Messenger. they (Negroes) would rise.

WHEN they failed to come rapidly He (Messenger) didn't give up and become rebellious to His God (Allah). Instead he prayed for strength. When some who had been raised from the dead rebelled he didn't become disgusted and embittered. When the devil cast him into prison for teaching Islam. he didn't question the power of Allah. he was humble and submissive. He had beforehand been warned by Allah that these things would happen. He doesn't question the judgment of His God, Allah. He prays for Allah's mercy and grace. He is the example for us all, both male and female.

NOW THIS is your light and guide, sisters. So on your journey back, be strong and pray to Allah for guidance if you're ever to return. It is left up to you since there is no compulsion in Islam. Behold, Allah makes all things New! Those who submit to him demand of themselves a complete and strict change.

When you marry especially men of great responsibilities you must have a tremendous amount of understanding and patience. Remember he has his work to keep him occupied and you have nothing unless you make yourself industrious to learn a craft of good such as sewing, knitting, crocheting, embroidering, etc... a penny was never saved, a dress was never made, a sweater was never knitted, an apron never embroidered on the telephone. Toward the close of the day special effort should be made to relax him by whatever means you have found relaxes him best. You must be observant.

YOUR CHILDREN are your future and while they are growing you may be proud of them. or you may be embarrassed with them. It's up to you. Sparing the rod will cause great embarrassment. You don't fight or quarrel with your children. You beat them and your word is law but you are an example of your words.

Never allow that old disease called jealousy, envy, and favoritism to enter into your heart. Harmony is best for you. Remember the words "make all things new." yourself is not for you to discover some new way of doing things or new things to do in the way of government. To be yourself is making all things new. "Yourself" is new to you.

Let us leave those old Christian ways and ideas behind us. By some you have been labeled "rebellious," you can prove otherwise. If there is fault, let it be in others but don't be eager for their faults. Remember, it is Allah who makes manifest. Black men, we recognize we are nothing without you, so help us and yourself.

I PRAY for your success and I pray for my own. Let us pray more for each other and Thank Allah for our Divine Leader, Teacher and Guide, The Honorable Elijah Muhammad, Last and Greatest Messenger of Allah.
