Spring blooms with fashionable clothing for Style-conscious women

When April's rains have subsided and May flowers begin to bloom, a woman's fancies start turning to fashions—spring fashions.

In keeping with seasonal moods, Faiz Fashions, a Bilalian-owned, Chicago-based company, recently presented their latest line in high-fashion, modest clothing to the public.

And in case you haven't heard, modesty is vogue.

Noted for their revolutionary headwraps for women, the newest from Faiz Fashions are formal and leisure full-length dresses which combine Western styles with the eloquence of Eastern-Arabian styles.

Fashion designer Karimah Faiz, creator of the new spring line, and business manager H. Faheem stress the fact that the new fashions were created keeping in mind the directives of Emam Wallace D. Muhammad for modest, yet fashionable and affordable clothing for Muslim women—and men.

THIS BEAUTIFUL gathered skirt features a ruffled hemline, and a front and back panel to match worn with the Faiz E-Z Wrap headwear.
